RELAY TEAM TO RACE GEORGETOWNPurple Quartet Expected to Register Second Victory
at N. Y. A. C. Games

BROCKTON MEET FRIDAY

Crusader Entries to Feature
Meet Held in Burns'
Home Town

Tonight the Crusaders' champion relay team will meet the fast Georgetown quartet in the feature event of the N. Y. A. C. games in New York City. This will be their third meeting of the present indoor season, and as they broke even in their first two races, tonight's affair will find the Purple ready to give the Hilltoppers another setback. The relay team will be the only Purple entry at this meet.

On Friday night the tracksters will go to Brockton to show their wares.

Jim Quinn, who is making a great name for himself this year, will be probably entered in the sprints. Frank Burns, who summers in Brockton, will give the home folks a thrill when he runs the 600. Other probable entries are Roche in the 600, Moran and McDonald in the hurdles, and Tom Fitzpatrick in the two-mile event. This will be the last indoor meet for the relay team until the Intercollegiates on March sixth. Practically the entire varsity squad will be entered in this meet.

These two meets will be the last tests for Bart Sullivan's men before the final indoor meet of the season. Thus far there have been two outstanding bright lights, the running of Jim Quinn in the dashes from 40 to 70 yards, and the sensational work of the relay team. Clausen and Roche running for the first time in fast company aided materially in their record breaking race at the Brooklyn College games when they outstepped the Blue and Gray flyers of Georgetown. They have also taken the measure of the Harvard and Boston College relaymen.

K. OF C. WILL EXEMPLIFY
COLLEGE CLASS MARCH 5

The first degree will be exemplified on the Holy Cross Knights of Columbus class on March 5. This is the first time that Holy Cross men, as a class, have sought admission to the Council, and it is considered as marking the beginning of a notable era both in the Council's history and in that of Mt. St. James. Great interest is being manifested in the enrollment by the K. of C. members and a notable gathering is expected at the coming first degree. Praise must be given Grand Knight Francis D. Mullins and his assistants for their efforts in interesting Holy Cross in the Knights of Columbus.

The committee has announced that reservations will be made for the fathers and relatives who are Knights, and who may wish to witness the degree.

Four new applicants were received into the class this week, leaving only two vacant places. These places must be filled during the coming week.

Fr. Blakely To Lecture
On "Intolerance" Friday

On the afternoon of Friday, February 26, Rev. Paul L. Blakely, S.J., will return to the college to lecture on "Intolerance."

Fr. Blakely is one of the associate editors of the Jesuit publication, "America," for which organ he has recently been writing a series of articles on the anti-Catholic movement in education, which has been prevalent during recent years.

"Intolerance" should prove a most interesting topic for a speaker of Fr. Blakely's power and earnestness, two factors which have placed him in the front rank of militant Catholic lecturers.

Early this Fall, Fr. Blakely addressed the student body on "State Rights and Education."

DIEDERICH PREPARES
FOR COMING CONCERTSSuccess of Initial Program Last Sunday Encourages Concert Group

Heartened by the success of the musicale given last Sunday afternoon, the various groups of the Musical Clubs are working diligently on the concert to be presented next Sunday, February 28. Paul B. Diederich, '28, director of the concerts, expressed himself as more than gratified with the showing of the players last Sunday. He also stated that the high standard of the first concert will be maintained throughout the rest of the musicales scheduled for Lent.

After Lent invitations will be sent to more than two hundred music patrons of the community, whose names were obtained from the mailing list of Worcester Art Museum. By this means it is hoped to have present not only a large group of students, but also many guests from Worcester.

Mr. Diederich has also instituted something new in the way of musical groups in the formation of a Concert Orchestra. This group has for its purpose the rendition of various symphonies. He hopes to have the members sufficiently skilled in this new type of work to allow them to present the last two concerts of the Lenten season.

Following the concert last Sunday, the group was entertained at dinner by the Dean and Rev. Charles L. Kimball, S.J.

They are now working on the following selections:

Peer Gynt Suite . . . . . Grieg
Conduct Weekly Seminars

The Chemistry and Biology departments will hold weekly seminars for which the professors will prepare abstracts on current scientific literature.

The Department of Biology will conduct its seminars every Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 in the Biology library. Informal papers on current biological questions are to be presented. For the present, active participation is limited to the members of the Biology faculty, though the senior pre-med students are invited to attend. However, with the introduction of the new B.S. course, students majoring in Biology will be expected to take an active part in these seminars.

of the Student Body
Inaugurated

TO CLOSE ON MARCH 25

Rules For Plays Presented Are Drawn Up By the "Vagabonds"

Plans for the forthcoming One-Act Play Night were drawn up at a recent meeting of the Vagabond Players. A contest, closing on March 25, was inaugurated, in which any student in the college is eligible to enter a play. All the contributions received will then be submitted to a member of the faculty who will choose the five best for presentation.

The rules governing contributed plays are as follows:

1. Any student in the college is eligible to enter the contest.
  2. All plays must be submitted to the Scribe, William J. Butler, '27, not later than 6 p. m. on Thursday, March 25.
  3. The plot may be comic, tragic or melodramatic, but all plots, and their development must be entirely original.
  4. Plays should be short enough to be presented in a maximum time of twenty minutes.
  5. Plays with a limited cast and in a modern setting are preferred.
  6. Production of accepted plays will be handled by the players unless the author wishes otherwise.
- Authors of the accepted plays will be notified before the Easter Holidays. The date of the One-Act Play Night has not been definitely settled, but will be some time in May. Faculty members will be requested to act as judges.

R. LEANEY TOASTMASTER
AT FRESHMAN BANQUET

The annual banquet of the freshman class was held at Denholm & McKay's restaurant last Tuesday. Robert J. Leamey of Oneonta, N. Y., the toastmaster, first introduced John J. Larkin of New York City, president of the class, who gave an address of welcome. He was followed by Paul M. Quinn, who gave a few dramatic readings.

Festivities rose to a lighter strain through the medium of Ambrose T. Brady, who rendered several selections on the violin. Thomas A. Meehan, '10, in a few words and many jests gave his impressions of 1925, which were for the most part favorable. The next number was a banjo duet by John H. Long and H. Wilfrid Lilly, the famous sophomore team. The quarrel between John Ridd and Carver Doone adapted from the Lorna Doone, was given by Edward F. O'Rourke, freshman debater.

Rev. Joseph N. Dinand, S.J., in the closing address, spoke to the class of the traditions of Holy Cross, and took for his theme an inscription on the ruins of an entrance to an old seminary. The inscription was "Spem" (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

FROSH TO ELECT OFFICERS
TODAY

The freshman class will hold a meeting today in Fenwick Hall to elect class officers for the remainder of the year.

Sophomores Will Debate
Volstead Law In Latin

"Utrum Lex Volstedica Sit Justa" will be the subject of a Latin debate which will take place next Friday evening at eight o'clock in Fenwick Hall. The debate is being run by the members of the sophomore class in Pedagogical Latin.

Messrs. Joseph V. O'Brien and Thomas F. Curtin will uphold the affirmative, while Messrs. John J. Feeney and Harold T. Field will oppose them. The judges will be Rev. Patrick F. Doyle, '02, of Brookfield, Mass., Rev. John Lunney, '90, Worcester, Mass., and Rev. Patrick F. McHugh, S.J., Dean of Boston College.

This debate, which is under the direction of Rev. Daniel F. Ryan, S.J., is an innovation in Holy Cross debating circles, and should prove highly interesting.

FACULTY TO CONDUCT
THURSDAY CONFERENCESFr. Bulman Talks at First of Conference on "Lent and Penance"

During the Lenten season Thursday conferences will be conducted by members of the faculty in the Memorial chapel at 6.40 p. m. The conferences will be followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Rev. Neil L. Bulman, S.J., professor of Rhetoric, gave a short Lenten sermon in the Memorial Chapel last Thursday evening. The subject was "Lent and Penance."

Fr. Bulman stressed the importance of the right motive to Lenten self-denial. He referred to the bitter humiliation of Christ before Pilate, and exhorted those present to do penance in atonement for the Divine agony with "Love of God" as the motive.

This Wednesday, Rev. Francis X. Downey, S.J., Dean of the College will talk on "The Natural Virtues." On the following Thursday the Novena of Grace will be opened. Rev. John F. X. Murphy, S.J., will conduct the services during the novena and will give short talks on the various incidents in the life of St. Francis Xavier.

The subjects for the remainder of Lent are "St. Joseph," by Rev. James F. McDermott, S.J., Chaplain, on March 18, "The Mother of God," by Rev. Joseph N. Dinand, S.J., President on March 25.

Prince Paul Christian Of Greece Visits College Today

His royal highness, Prince Paul Christian of Greece, who would have probably succeeded to the throne but for the overthrow of his brother's government, visited Holy Cross this afternoon. He was accompanied on his tour of the buildings by Father Rector and others.

Prince Paul was accompanied by Dr. P. Vassilopoulou of Athens, his private secretary, and George Polis, former secretary to ex-Premier Gurnarus of Greece.

The prince was attired in a plain brown business suit, brown oxfords, a soft white collar and four-in-hand tie, and he wore a monocle.

While in this country he has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Leeds, Jr., of Oyster Bay, L. I. Mrs. Leeds is the former Princess Xenia of Greece. He plans to leave this country for Europe the latter part of this week.

PRESENT 1926 CLASS SONG

Senior Council Selects Farewell Song Written By Langan

Hon. David I. Walsh, '93, one of the most prominent of Holy Cross Alumni, will be the principal speaker at the annual celebration of Holy Cross Night, next Thursday. Arrangements had been made to have three other interesting talkers present, but the Rt. Rev. John G. Murray, '97, William F. O'Neil, '07, and Hon. William M. Welch, '04, mayor of Northampton, Mass., will be unable to attend.

Faculty and students, however, will be favored with short talks by Dr. Michael I. Shea, ex-'00, and A.M., '13, mayor of Chicopee, Mass., and Hon. Gregory J. Scanlon, '10, mayor of Holyoke.

The senior class will sing publicly for the first time the class song. The Senior Council selected one of four songs submitted last week as the farewell song of 1926. The verse of the winning song was written by Richard T. Langan, '26, editor of THE TOM-AHAWK, which will be sung to the tune of Andantino, by LeMare, recently popularized under the title of "Moonlight and Roses."

The program calls for dinner at six to be followed by addresses in the Auditorium, interspersed with music by the college orchestra. Following this, the seniors will sing the class song and the Alma Mater.

Holy Cross Night Marshal, "Bill" Glennon, and his committee of athletes have taken care of arrangements, and the usual spirit is expected to be noticeable.

PROF. BOUVIER STRESSES
NEED OF COLLEGE SONG

The necessity of a new college song was emphasized by J. Edward Bouvier, director of the Musical Clubs, at a meeting held today. He urged the entire personnel of the Musical Clubs to try their hand at song writing and offered to assist in putting the theme and motif to music.

At the recent intercollegiate contest in Boston, the lack of a real spirited and traditional Holy Cross song was quite evident. The "Varsity Song" seems to lack the spirit and background that a college song should have. Hopes are being entertained that the new song, when completed, will rank second to the Alma Mater. Not only the Musical Clubs, but the entire student body is urged to co-operate in this work.

Everyone should avail himself of this opportunity to be of service to Holy Cross. Mr. Bouvier declared that if the same spirit and pep that is exemplified at the Purple athletic contests is in the song, we will have a real college song, inferior to none.

"YET WE ARE THE MOVERS AND SHAKERS OF THE WORLD FOREVER, IT SEEMS"

The Glee Club may have been somewhat consoled, at least as far as their performing ability is concerned, by the information that failure to win a ranking place in the Intercollegiate Glee Club trials was due, according to the common opinion, to the mediocrity of the College Song. Had the result depended upon the rendition of the Prize and Choice Songs, they might have fared much better. The Varsity Song, the best that Holy Cross can boast in the class of college songs, wits not worthy of recognition.

Whatever comfort there may have been in the news is for the singers alone, because they can do no more than interpret what someone else has created; for the rest of the college, it is a reproach or a challenge, as we choose to take it. There is no doubt that Holy Cross, with her great athletic teams, her active newspaper and monthly, her prominence in concert work, debating and dramatics, has no worth-while, distinctive college song. Among the traditions that are cherished so lovingly at alumni banquets we regrettably cannot number that most enduring monument of all, an Alma Mater that is all our own. The present Alma Mater, which is the best of our few songs, has adequate words, but the melody is borrowed. In the twenty years since it was written, there has been no serious attempt to improve upon it. The glory of Holy Cross is very much like Mark Twain's posterity. Everybody is talking about it, but very few are doing anything about it.

There is talent enough in the college, both literary and musical, to work out a song with melody and words quite as good as any other institution can boast.

Prof. Bouvier has already issued a call and is anxious to receive all kinds of contributions—a bar for a theme—a stanza of verse, or, better still, a complete song. There is no reason why one of them should not be masterpiece enough to be introduced in our best concerts of the year, the concerts at Easter time. There would be much applause, and possibly a call for the composer. It is worth thinking about. It is worth thinking about seriously.

MORE MATTER FOR A MAY MORNING

Cases of genuine student endeavor are comparatively rare. One can count on his fingers the number of activities at Holy Cross which have arisen out of the ambition of some student or students who have desired something better than the existing state of affairs.

This month, as if repentant, brought two. Scarcely had we forgotten the first thrill of pleasure over the inception of the Sunday afternoon musical concerts when word was broadcast of the formation of a One-Act Play Shop, the "Vagabond Players." With practically no outside encouragement, this group of student writers decided to crystallize their half formed desires for an attempt at dramatic composition, and formed their organization.

They seem to possess a fair share of enthusiasm. No sooner had the sanction of the Dean been secured than they formulated plans for the one-act play contest to select plays for presentation some night in May. The cause to which they have pledged themselves is worthy not only of their own efforts, but of the interest of the entire student body, and the active interest of all who write.

If the Vagabond Players continue in the spirit which they started, we shall not have to encourage them. We shall be proud of them, and of the work they are doing.

RANDOM THOUGHTS OF A "COLYUMIST"

Sunday, in the Wigwam.

Well, well, tempus sure does fugit, doesn't it? as Hector was wont to say. What to do? What to do? (Pulling out hair by handfuls—or is it handfuls? Let's see. Using one hand to write with, should say "using one hand with which to write" because a preposition is a bad word to end a sentence with. Anyway, one hand is occupied, so it must be handfuls. Well, as we said before (twice), "What to do?" Mr. Tempus has fugited so fast that it's Sunday all of a sudden, and this colyum must be filled. "Aye, even," as Shakespeare would say, "filled to o'erflowing." Maybe Shakespeare wouldn't say it, but somebody might.

Well, what to do? Here Washington comes along and gives the boys a holiday. (He must be a prominent alumnus or something who came back and told us how it was when he was a boy, and Blackstone fish were delicate and dainty. (Cute li'l things in those days.) Holiday was where we left off. Now to continue. Everybody has gone home except two students from Jamaica, B. W. I., who couldn't get convenient trains. That leaves us in the lurch. What lurch? I don't know. But it leaves us in the lurch, and the Crossings colyum is a wide open space fit for a landscape. Just in case you haven't caught wise up to the present, this here Crossings colyum is supposed to be filled up weekly with humor and what not. It is filled up weekly,—very weakly. But we shouldn't tell you that. That's been a big secret for a long time, and we trust to your honor as a gentleman or a lady, or even a college student, not to breathe a word about it. Promise? Aren't you sweet?

Still we haven't been struck by any bright ideas. What to do? What to do? Oh, for the life of a sailor, with port in every bottle—no, no, a bottle in every port,—gee, I don't know, something like that. Oh, for the life of a sailor. What to do? What to do? Here the Glee Club has been gluing, the musicians musing, the hoopsters whooping, the club men clubbing, the students stewing, and dramatists "chewing up the scenery," but nobody's in the humor for humor. Oh! Lest we forget, the baseballers are also beginning to bawl. (We're sorry. Never for one single moment did we intend to neglect anyone.) And, oh yes! We now have "The Vagabond Players," with a chief vagabond. Doesn't that sound wicked? But it isn't, really. Don't be alarmed. Honest. They're just playing. We wonder if their national anthem, or alma mater, or battle song or something, is going to be "The Song of the Vagabonds." Good suggestion that. Don't know how we happened to strike upon it.

Now what do you think of that? Some kind fellow who has been reading this over our shoulder (he's going to send it to a comic magazine, we think), just suggested that we move the editorials over here and let it go at that. That's the most unkindest cut of all, and we think he's just horrid. The nasty thing. As if our editorials aren't funny enough where they are, without us telling anybody about it.

Well, even though tempus does fugit, it's still Sunday, and this naughty word colyum is still unfilled. Wish somebody would get killed, or a building burn down, or something funny happen, so we could tell you about it.

Here's a good idea. You can help us a lot, and save us a lot of worry and work, and save the linotype some linotyping. Look. Just think of the latest joke you have heard, and laugh and then imagine that you read it here. And then we can leave the rest of this colyum—funny word, colyum, isn't it?—vacant, and all nice and white.

Oh, all right, then, do't! We'll put an ad or two here and fool you. Ta-ta. Love to the folks.

—R. T. L., '26.

Arrangements Completed For Glee Club's New York Trip

To Sing High Mass at Cathedral — Housing Problem Alone Unsolved

Due to the efforts of Cornelius Sullivan, '10, abetted by a group of enthusiastic alumni, the business arrangements of the Musical Clubs' Easter trip around Greater New York have been practically settled. The housing problem alone remains.

With a hearty appreciation of this manifest co-operation, the Musical Clubs have three rehearsals a week scheduled during the Lenten season in concentrated effort to arrive at near perfection for the Easter tour. The Glee Club, especially, is being pointed for the crowning effort of the present season, viz., the singing of the High Mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, on Sunday, April 11. Accordingly, Prof. J. Edward Bouvier is stressing, in the current rehearsals, the perfection of Gounod's Mass.

The singing of the Mass is a privilege which has been obtained by the alumni of New York City, led by Mr. Sullivan, '10, who is leaving no stone unturned that the coming trip may be as successful as, or even eclipse, last year's metropolitan appearance. Mr. Sullivan was the guiding spirit of last year's arrangements, and is continuing his generous co-operation this year.

The housing problem is unsettled. Less than one-half of the personnel of the combined Musical Clubs have been arranged for in this regard. It is thought, however, that in the six weeks intervening, enough students residing in Greater New York will co-operate in this matter to solve the question.

OFFERS ASSISTANCE TO AMBITIOUS STUDENTS

The International Magazine Co., Inc., announces that the sum of $150,000 has been set aside by it to help ambitious youths through college during 1926.

Back of this enterprise, begun in 1925, is an interesting story showing that young Prentice, Rockefeller's nephew at Harvard, is not alone in his desire to secure an education through his own efforts. The response of ambitious students to the offer of this company also goes far to disprove the recent assertions of educational experts that the motive which draws young men to college is the love of luxury and sports.

More than a hundred young men took advantage of the company's offer in 1925. In addition to paying them a salary that met their living expenses, the company sent checks for their tuition to the treasurers of more than a score of prominent colleges, including Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, University of Pennsylvania, Johns Hopkins University, Holy Cross, Brown, Lafayette and Ohio State. As victoriously as any of their football teams, these bona fide college men are cleaning the field of fake college men, and are putting the door-to-door selling of publications on the high plane of other branches of marketing.

Agents of the company are now visiting principal colleges to enroll 300 students for work during the summer of 1926. It is estimated that each man enrolled will earn $500, for, in addition to earn the yearly scholarship, the men have also the opportunity to earn large bonuses.

Student Plans For New Gymn Sent To Maginns & Walsh To Decide Winner

FR. GILLESPIE BURIED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Rev. James A. Gillespie, S.J., of Boston, was buried yesterday afternoon in the cemetery beside the Memorial Chapel. Six seniors acted as pall-bearers.

Fr. Gillespie was at Holy Cross first as a scholastic during the years 1887 and 1888. Later, in 1906, he returned as a professor of the classics, remaining until 1908.

During his career as a priest, he has taught at Georgetown, Loyola in Baltimore and Boston College. Up to last year he was connected with the Church of St. Francis Xavier in New York City. He was one of the parish priests there.

Last summer he was transferred to Boston, where he died last week.

Frs. E. Duffy and D. Ryan Conduct Lenten Devotions

Lenten services are being conducted at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Worcester, by Rev. Edward P. Duffy, S.J., These services consist in short talks on the sacraments. Rev. Daniel F. Ryan, S.J., is conducting similar services every Tuesday evening at the Holy Name Church, Springfield, Mass.

Many Novel Ideas Submitted to Dean — Prizes for Three Best

The competition among the students for the best ideas regarding the proposed new gymnasium and club house on the Hill, which closed last Monday, has proved very fruitful.

Seven plans, many of them drawn to scale, were submitted to the Dean, who reports that novel and good ideas are plentiful among the various plans and suggestions.

All of the drawings have been sent to Maginnis & Walsh, Boston, to be judged. This firm designed Loyola Hall, the Memorial Chapel and the new Library, and consequently, a decision could not be made by more competent men. The best, and second and third best will be decided by this firm.

Plans were submitted by Richard T. Langan, '26, Brooklyn, N. Y.; H. Wilfrid Lilly, Jr., '28, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William J. Murphy, '29, New York, N. Y.; William J. Murray, '29, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Lawrence McGillicuddy, '29, Worcester, Mass.; Albert W. Perrier, '28, New Bedford, Mass.; and John R. Smith, '29, Binghamton, N. Y.

INTERCOLLEGIATES IN NEW YORK MARCH 6

BART WORKS SQUAD DAILY FOR FINAL INDOOR MEET

Relay Team, Quinn in 70-Yard Dash and 1929 Medley Relay Among Entries

A crack lot of track athletes will carry the Purple colors in the Intercollegiate which will be held on March 6 at New York. Coach Bart Sullivan is grooming his men for this outstanding event of the season and he promises that Holy Cross will make a good showing. Eighteen colleges will compete in the Intercollegiate, so the Purple track men will have their work cut out for them, when they face the pick of all these colleges.

Jim Quinn, Bart's latest sensation will compete against a crack field in the 70-yard dash. Frank Hussey of Boston College and Middlesdorf of Colby will probably oppose Quinn in the dash. All these men have widespread reputations, but Bart is confident of Quinn's ability to show his heels to them.

The relay team will have another opportunity of showing their wares in New York, as all the colleges entered in the meet have relay teams representing them. The race will be run off in three heats, six teams in each heat. The first in each heat will compete in the finals, making six teams in all. Mulvihill, Burns, Clausen and Roche have been running in fine style in the practice sessions during the past week and should carry the Purple colors to the fore in the big relay event. Higgins, who broke his shoulder early in the season, is again fit for the go and should any of the relay men, burn themselves out in the trial heat, Bart will have a capable man on hand to substitute.

Tom Fitzpatrick, a letter man from last year will represent Holy Cross in the two-mile run. Fitzpatrick did some excellent running last year and is in good condition for the event. A bad cold hindered him early in the season. He has manifested all his old-time endurance in this week's practice and by March 6, he will be ready for the gruelling run.

Moran and McDonald will compete in the 70-yard high hurdles and Moran and Feeney will compete in the high jump. A freshman medley relay team has also been entered. The result of this race will not count in the point score. The first man on the team will run one-half a mile; the second man two hundred and twenty yards; the third a quarter of a mile, and the anchor man will be called upon to run a mile. As yet Bart has not announced what men he will run in this event.

JUNIORS TRAMPLE SENIORS 33 TO 23

Victory Makes Juniors Tie With Sophomores For Second Place

The representatives of the junior class in the interclass basketball league won a great victory over the seniors, last Wednesday night in the college gym by a 33 to 23 score. The meeting marked the first appearance of an outside referee on the floor, when Pat Hehir, Worcester's premier fight announcer, officiated.

The juniors took the lead at the outset and guarded it tenaciously throughout. Their passwork was much better than that of the seniors, who, when unable to penetrate the juniors' defense, shot from all sides of the court, and failed to follow up their shots. Practically every time they shot, they stood in their tracks, to see the result of their try, whereas the juniors followed up their shots with telling effect.

The juniors compiled a safe lead in the first half. Early in the first half Doyle and Hanifin scored eight points between them and brought the seniors' total up to within five points of the juniors. A hurried council of war was held by the third year men, and during the one-minute rest they recovered themselves, and again started to draw away from the seniors. Cunningham, Hathaway, and Shields continued dropping in baskets despite frantic efforts on the part of the seniors to stop them.

The defeat that the seniors suffered on last Wednesday ruins their chances in the league. At present the freshmen are leading the league with two victories and no defeats. The juniors and sophomores have each one victory and one defeat to their credit, while the seniors, in last place, have met with setbacks in both their games.

Cunningham, Hathaway, and Shields were the outstanding stars of the junior quintet and they scored all but one of the juniors' total of points. Doyle and Hanifin played best for the seniors.

LOWELL AND FORDHAM GAMES

The coming week finds the Purple basketball team playing return games with rivals that have been met earlier in the season. The first game will be played with Lowell Textile School in St. John's gymnasium, Worcester. The Crusaders met the Textile team at Lowell in the fourth game of the season, and emerged on the top end of a 34-23 score. The game was hard played, the teams being deadlocked at half time. The Holy Cross netsters clinched the game in the second half, despite the efforts of Bellmore and Kenney, who starred for Lowell.

On Saturday the team journeys to New York for the last time this season. Fordham, the team that took the Purple's measure in one of the best games ever played in Worcester, will play host on this occasion. The Maroon, boasting one of the strongest teams in the East last year, appeared to have an equally strong outfit this year. Since the season has progressed, the team seems to have slipped a little and dropped two or three encounters, although the scores were very close. On the other hand, Coach Reed's proteges have shown considerable improvement in the last few games, and appear to be capable of giving Fordham a strong fight. The game is being anticipated with keen interest by the team, who feel sure that Fordham will have to put another marker in their column of losses.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Due to the great interest shown in the interclass basketball league during the past weeks and in order to break the dull monotony that settles on the Hill every year at this period, it has been decided to add a second half to the student league. The games will be played on Sundays and Tuesdays.

Just now the freshmen seem to have the first half honors, although the sophs or juniors have a mathematical chance to tie them.

Next Sunday the juniors and freshmen will open the second half in the gym. The last time these teams met, the frosh won a closely contested game by a 19-16 score. This time the juniors, with Hathaway in the lineup, seem to have the edge. The seniors, who failed to function well during the first half, are looking forward to the coming games with the anticipation of securing revenge for their previous setbacks. The soph team is the dark horse of the league. Possessing a strong passing attack, coupled with the accurate shooting of Meany and Welsh, they should give the other classes a real tussle.

The Athletic Association will award numeral sweatshirts to the winning class team. The date for the game between the winners of first and second halves has not yet been definitely decided upon.

McCARTHY CALLS FOR TENNIS CANDIDATES

Practice Starts This Thursday in Gym—Schedule Not Completed

Practice sessions will begin for the tennis aspirants this Thursday. These sessions will probably be held in the gym. Efforts are being made to secure the old baseball cage, situated in the quadrangle behind O'Kane Hall.

Captain James W. McCarthy, '26, of Montreal will look over the candidates for the team and weed them out so as to have a reliable squad when the team goes outdoors. McCarthy and Daniel E. Reardon, '28, are the only letter men left of last year's team. However, with such men as Frank Powers, '27, interclass champion, and winner of the Edward A. Dinneen cup; Charlie Phelan and Pete Igoe, two sophomores who were on the team last season, prospects are fair. Those in the freshman class who showed great promise during the fall tournament are: H. Kelly, L. Sullivan, P. Lilly, L. McGillicuddy, and W. Hill, Jr.

Manager Fallon has practically completed the schedule, but negotiations are still pending with several colleges.

Relay Team Wins Second Leg On Portland Trophy

The exceptionally fast time made by the Purple relay team in scoring their victory in the Portland meet on the night of February 15, gives the Crusaders their second leg on the coveted Portland Cup. This trophy is awarded by the officials of the Portland meet to the relay team making the fastest time in that meet. It must be won five times for permanent ownership. Since the crack relay team of last year won the first leg on it, it has only to be won three more times by the Purple to become the permanent possession of Holy Cross. Prospects of winning the cup three more times are very bright when the large number of crack quarter-milers in the freshman and sophomore classes are taken into consideration.

Forty-Four Report To Jack Barry For Infield and Outfield Berths

Barry Cuts Squad Today— Many Aspiring Freshmen Dropped

The call for infielders and outfielders for the 1926 edition of the intercollegiate champions, which Jack Barry is now forming in the Loyola cage, brought out forty-four candidates for the team. Twenty-six of these men will strive for infield positions, while the other eighteen will seek berths in the garden. The squad, which overcrowded the gym, has been divided into two sections, which will practice on alternate days.

As yet no cut has been made, but due to the large size of the squad and the fact that there is only one position open, Coach Barry will probably prune down the list of candidates during the coming week.

The battery men who survived last week's cut have been hard at work for the past week and are beginning to cut loose and put plenty of stuff on the ball. Of the freshmen pitchers who are expected to bolster up the staff of last year's veterans, Walker, Duggan, Fons, Lynch, Dobbins, and Madden are showing up very well.

The infielders will strive for the second base position left vacant by the graduation of "Doc" Gautreau. The most promising of the candidates for the keystone sack are, "Shorty" McMahon, last year's utility infielder, "Blondy" Ryan, the sensational freshman of the last football season, Dick Harrell of Dean Academy, Frank Cahill from Milford High, E. McGarrigan from Philadelphia, and Dowd and Filip, stars of last year's freshman team.

Other infield candidates are, Con Hurley of Worcester Academy; Macora, Clinton High; Kane, from Hartford High; Manning, Marlboro High star; Hand of Webster H. S.; Sweeney, Classical High; Gorman, Bethel High; Roche from Palmer High; O'Brien of Crosby High; Hinchey, Rutland High; C. Blanchard of South High; Dunn and Tomich of last year's Regis High team; McNaboe, Billy Wise and Goan.

Although positions in the outfield were well cared for last year, still eighteen men came out to try their luck. The most promising of the new men are: Johnson of last year's freshman team; D. McGarrigan from West Philadelphia Catholic High; and Shea from Crosby High. Others seeking outfield berths are: Turco, Cushing Academy; Minor from Worcester Classical; Moran, Watkins, N. Y.; Shaw of Millbury H. S.; C. Moran, Brookline H. S.; D. Crimmins from St. Anselms; Sugrue from Crosby High; McNamara, Worcester South; and Ralph Cross of Brooklyn Prep.

Last year's regulars, Cote, McEntee, Walsh, Morrissey, Savage, Freeman, Doherty, and the three pitchers, Davidson, Glennon and Ray, all appear to be in good condition and ready to put up their best game as soon as the team gets outside. Doherty will have an able staff of assistants in the catching position. Whalen, Feeley, (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

St. John's Scores One Point Victory

Defeats Crusaders in Fierce Battle By Score of 33 to 32

Last Saturday at Brooklyn, St. John's reciprocated an early season defeat by Holy Cross by handing the Crusaders a sad setback by the narrow margin of a single point, on their home court. The final score was 33 to 32 in favor of the Red and White. The foul shots bounced as merrily as ever from the backboard and therein lies the snags of the story.

Out of 14 attempts from the 15-foot line, the Crusaders sunk all of four shots. A double foul was committed on Reilly just before the final whistle blew. If he had looped both of them the game would have been forced into extra time, but the jinx that seems to lurk on the 15-foot barrier allowed only one shot to find its mark. This one point proved to be the margin of defeat. St. John's rustled the draperies five times out of seven attempts.

Holy Cross lead at the half time whistle by 16-15, after the vantage had seen-sawed several times. St. John's came back in the second half to keep the slender lead which was ever in danger. The solid defense of the Red and White prevented any scoring rallies by the Purple quintet, who were limited mostly to long shots.

Reilly proved the usual threat of the Crusaders by chalking up eleven points. He showed a keen eye at caging them from mid-court. Kittredge broke up the St. John's attack several times.

The defeat of the Purple avenges a 35-29 conquest of St. John's earlier in the season. The Brooklynites played a speedy passing game, all set on victory. The contest was very close, neither side having better than a six-point lead throughout, although the story would have been different if the Purple had been able to loop foul shots.

Freeman also scored eleven points, including the winning basket. Feeny was close on his heels with ten points.

The lineup:

VARSITY QUINTET BOWS TO SUPERIOR ARMY TEAM

Strong Defence of Soldiers Too Much for Fighting Crusaders

Displaying a strong offense the Army five defeated the Holy Cross quintet yesterday afternoon in a clean and spirited game by a score of 41 to 27. Roosma, and Wilson, star back on the Cadet eleven, accounted for twenty-six of the Army's points.

Neither team scored until the expiration of three minutes' time when Roosma, Army's star forward, tossed a field goal. Shepard and Mills also tallied from scrimmage for the Cadets before Holy Cross broke into a scoring column. Reilly was first to score for his team, tallying on a pretty pass from Kittredge from the right side of Army's basket.

Kittredge, from under Army's basket, threw a field goal, and Wilson followed for Army with another. Reilly had one free throw but missed and with time out after eight minutes of play, the score read Army 11, Holy Cross 4.

Upon the resumption of play Shanahan went out, Reilly moving to forward, and Brady taking the latter's place at guard. Kittredge scored two more points for Holy Cross on tries from the foul line, while Burke and Reilly each added one more via the same play. Wilson shot two field goals for Army in succession, and Draper, who had gone in for Mills at forward on the Army five, made one of two tries from the foul line good. Score at close of first half, Army 22, Holy Cross 10.

Shepard and Roosma counted early in the second half with field goals and Connors got one for Holy Cross. Wilson and Roosma then cut loose running Army's score to 35.

Kittredge and Reilly kept Holy Cross in the running with field goals and Reilly added a point on a free throw. During the final five minutes play, Holy Cross staged its rally. O'Neill, who had gone in for Brady, caging one which was followed by two in quick succession by Kittredge and Connors. The latter also counted twice from the foul line in three attempts.

For Army, Flood and Wilson each scored field goals while Roosma swelled the Cadets' total with two points on free throws. Just before the gun barked, Reilly tossed another field goal for Holy Cross.

Close On Heels Of Hubbard In Both Preliminary And Final 65-Yard Dash

McKillop of B. C. Prevents Mulvihill From Winning Gaston Trophy

Success and disappointment marked the Purple track efforts in the Legion games at Boston yesterday afternoon. Jim Quinn, the highly promising sophomore sprinter, trailed the flashy Hubbard by half a stride in the 65-yard invitation dash. The colored streak set up a new world's record as a result of being pushed by Quinn. On the other hand, everyone at the meet seemed disappointed that Mulvihill did not capture his third successive leg on the Gaston 600 trophy.

The members of the relay team, with the exception of Mulvihill, were saved for tonight's race with Georgetown. Other Purple athletes were entered in the 50-yard hurdles, the two-mile run, the 1000-yard run, and the 600-yard run. However, these entries were shut out by classy talent, and Quinn and Mulvihill were the bright lights.

Quinn won his heat in the 50-yard dash, and qualified in the semi-finals, but was shut out by Hubbard, Middlesdorf and Morrill in the final. However, he showed his class in the 65-yard invitation sprint. He ran the first heat against Hubbard, Plansky and Colson of the University of Pennsylvania. The colored star was almost beside him as he breasted the tape. The old mark of 7 seconds was lowered to 6.4-5, and the crowd applauded "flying ebony."

Morrill of B. U., and Middlesdorf of Colby, captured the second heat. A talented collection of sprinters lined up when these four toed the mark for the final. They were out of their tracks with the crack of the gun and were practically side by side until a perceptible rift appeared between them as they neared the finish. The colored flyer equalled his newly made record with Quinn a very close second. Hubbard and his rivals ran this race in flat shoes and his time of 6.4-5 seconds for the distance was verified by five watches held on the performance.

Mulvihill missed a chance to take the Col. Gaston trophy from competition, when he failed to break the tape a winner in the 600. His opponents were Pincus Sober of C. C. N. Y., McKillop of Boston College, and Kune of Harvard. Mul shot out in front at the start and kept the lead with McKillop dogging his heels. During the last lap it seemed that Mul weakened, for the Boston flyer crept up without a responsive spurt from Mulvihill. When he did spurt it was too late, and McKillop won by a scant two feet, doing the 600 in 1 minute 19 seconds.

Among the timber-tappers, Plansky of Georgetown took the measure of Hubbard in the 50-yard hurdles. McDonald and Moran, the Purple entries, both won their heats, but were shut out in the semi-finals. The best time was 61-5 seconds. The hurdles were arranged differently than usual. Instead of four, there were only three, making a longer sprint to the tape.

In the rest of the events, the field proved too fast for the Purple runners, and they finished behind after keeping with the leaders most of the way.

Victor Hillman, B. S., Lectures On Mining and Refining Of Iron Ore

Lecture Illustrated By Forty-Two Stereopticon Slides

The Holy Cross Scientific Club heard Victor E. Hillman, director of the research laboratories of Crompton & Knowles Loom Works, Worcester, speak last Friday night on, "The Mining and Refining of Iron Ore." Hillman illustrated his lecture with forty-two stereopticon slides, which pictured the iron ore industry from the time that the miner's pick loosens the hematite, as the raw material is called, in the depths of the earth, until the heavy laden steamers draw into their piers in the great coal centers, where the burden is converted into domestic pig iron. Quaint pictures of the first blast furnaces were compared to the gigantic smelters of Gary, Indiana, and the Pennsylvania coal fields. The makeup and working of a modern blast furnace was made clear, while the numerous problems that confront the steel industry were related.

"The steel market is the barometer of prosperity," said Mr. Hillman in his description of the importance of the iron industry to every business man. Naturally he thought that everyone should be acquainted with this barometer whereby we can judge the condition of our country. "By the unfinished business on the books of the United States Steel Corporation," he said, "we can tell infallibly, how many new buildings, railroads, ships, and other progressive steps are being taken throughout the country."

As a matter of interest to Holy Cross men it might be noted that Mr. Hillman, who has several Holy Cross graduates in his employ, is strongly in favor of men trained in the classics. In his experience the classical training teaches a man to analyze problems and thus attribute effects to the proper cause.

To Train 3500 Young Men At C. M. T. C. This Summer

Major General Preston Brown, commanding the First Corps Area, has just received authority from the War Department to train 3500 young men at the Citizens' Military Training Camps in New England this year. Last year the quota allotted to New England was 3000. A 500 increase for this year will give a great many young men who were unable to secure a place at camp last year an opportunity to receive the benefits of these camps which the Government offers free of all cost. These camps are an outgrowth of the famous "Plattsburg Idea" and are devoted not only to military training, but to building of American character in the citizens of tomorrow.

There will be five camps in New England, Camp Devens, Mass., Fort McKinley, Portland, Maine, Fort Ethan Allen, Burlington, Vermont; Fort Terry, near New London, Conn., and Fort Adams at Newport, Rhode Island. These camps offer to the young men of New England a fine opportunity to participate in all types of athletics and to meet and make friends with young men from nearby counties and states. Those who desire to attend should apply immediately to the officer in charge, C. M. T. C. Affairs, Army Base, Boston, Mass.

JESUITS TO PUBLISH CATHOLIC QUARTERLY

A new Catholic Quarterly, published by the Jesuit Fathers, is to take its place among the leading periodicals with its first issue in June. Final arrangements were made recently when the entire staff comprising the educators of the order convened in Campion House.

The members of the managing board are: Rev. Wilfrid Parsons, S.J., editor-in-chief of "America"; managing editor, Rev. Francis LeBuffe, S.J., Dean of School of Social Service, Fordham University; and associate editors, Theology, Rev. Vincent McCormick, S.J., Dean of Studies at Sacred Heart College, Woodstock, Md.; Philosophy, Rev. Martin J. Burke, S.J., Professor of Philosophy at Loyola University, New Orleans; Sociology, Rev. Moohouse I. X. Millar, S.J., Professor of Constitutional Law at Fordham University School of Law; History, Rev. Samuel K. Wilson, S.J., Research Professor of History at Loyola University, Chicago; Education, Rev. Austin G. Schmidt, S.J., editor of the Loyola Educational Digest of Chicago; Literature, Rev. J. J. Daley, S.J., former literary editor of "America." The "Quarterly" will endeavor to present the Catholic Church as assimilative of all true discovery and ever progressive in its attitude towards the things that vex the world at large in every age.

It is hoped that it will contribute not a little to the whole movement of learning in this country and is intended to be an outlet for the writings of reputable Catholic scientists and men of learning.

HOPE TO RECEIVE O'DONNELL AGAIN

Students and faculty alike were impressed and very much interested in the talk given the staffs of the Purple and TOMAHAWK a few weeks ago, and are hoping for the return of Hugh A. O'Donnell soon.

Below appears a letter received from him, which is self explanatory:

Feb. 13, 1926.

Dear Father Dinand:

Again I wish to express by gratitude which I so feebly succeeded in doing Wednesday night. You and your associates are charming hosts and generous in your hospitality.

I am anticipating the pleasure of meeting Bishop Murphy again.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely yours,

HUGH A. O'DONNELL

News of the Non-Residents

In order that the records of the Worcester Undergraduate Club may be properly started and preserved, all who are members and desire to continue their membership, are requested to submit to the secretary of the club, as soon as possible, a slip bearing their name, class and residence. Members are also reminded that the dues for February are now payable to John Foley, '28, secretary.

The constitution recently formulated by the Worcester Undergraduate Club has been approved by the Dean with one exception and that is that a moderator should be appointed. He also urged that the club should file an application with Father Rector for a club room in the new gymnasium.

Supervised by Brother Carl—To Meet Boston College Later in Season

The French debate under the direction of Brother Carl, C.F.X., professor of French, will be held in Fenwick Hall on March 12. The question is: "Resolved: That the United States Government own and operate the anthracite coal mines." The affirmative will be upheld by Robert Cahill, '29, captain; Edmund Sweeney, '29; and Matthew Dougherty, '29; and Delmar Hughes, '29, alternate. On the negative are William Lawson, '29, captain; John Luddy, '29; Andrew Scannell, '29; and William Hill, '29, alternate. The three best speakers of this debate will be chosen to compose a team to debate Boston College later in the season. The question derives an especial interest from the present critical condition of the coal industry, and the fact that the debate will be carried on in French—the first of its kind ever held in Holy Cross history—will arouse much interest in the student body.
